You are Lawrence

A message from the Transition & Support Team

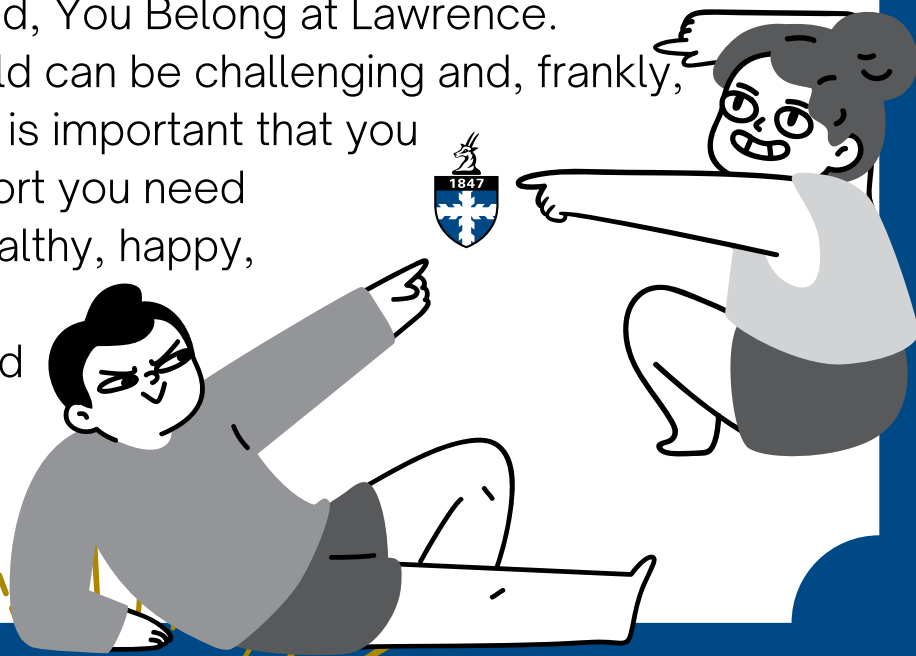

This newsletter is designed with you in mind, using research and the very best connections on and off campus to provide you with the information YOU need to succeed. Each week you will find sections that tell you more about academic resources, career planning, and university life. From interesting articles to fun polls, you will get it all delivered right to your inbox courtesy of students, faculty, and staff just like you!

Whether you transferred to Lawrence, are the first in your family to attend university, are a worried sophomore, or have another underrepresented background, You Belong at Lawrence.

Navigating the academic world can be challenging and, frankly, scary at times which is why it is important that you are connected with the support you need to be your very best self-- healthy, happy, included, and educated. This newsletter is written to remind you that you can do amazing things during your time here at Lawrence.
